

---

International Session IS-10 : Involuntary Movement (Telemedicine)

Chairs: Ryuji Kaji Tokushima University Hospital
Nobutaka Hattori Department of Neurology, Juntendo University

---

5月23日(金) 15:30~17:10 第11会場(福岡国際会議場 5階 501)

IS-10-1

Update on hereditary dystonias

Department of Neurology, University of Tokushima

○Ryuji Kaji

Hereditary dystonias are increasingly recognized in Asia. In this presentation, various cases of hereditary dystonia in Japan will be demonstrated with video. At the end of this session, the audience will be able to diagnose several of them with ease.

---

《略歴》

Current Position: Professor and Chairman, Department of Neurology,
University of Tokushima Graduate School of Medicine,
JAPAN

Education:

1979 Graduated from Kyoto University School of Medicine
(M.D.) Residency in Neurology and Medicine at Tokyo
Metropolitan Geriatric Hospital
1981-85 PhD course in Medical Science (1985, PhD degree)
1985-86 Post-doctoral fellow in Department of Neurology,
Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania

Positions:

1986-87 Visiting Professor of Neurology at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania
1987-88 Assistant Professor of Neurology at the Louisiana State
University Medical Center
1989-91 Assistant, Department of Neurology, Kyoto University
School of Medicine
1991-2000 Lecturer, Department of Neurology, Kyoto University
Graduate School of Medicine
2000- Current Position

Academic Societies

Japanese Society for Neurology, Executive Board Committee Member
Japanese Society of Clinical Neurophysiology, Executive Board
Committee Member

Member-at-large, International Federation of Clinical Neurophysiology
(IFCN) Executive Committee (2000~06)

Trustee, World Federation of Neurology (2007~2013)

A corresponding member, American Neurological Association
A clinical associate member, American Academy of Neurology

Movement Disorder Society (Member of Financial Committee, International Executive Committee)